

Flexible virtual delivery

- Flexibility to access the classroom from any location
- Convenient modular programmes to fit in with daily work schedules
- Timings and pace of learning to suit your teams
- Experienced trainers in 30 countries across seven regions

Interactive learning

- Fully interactive sessions with a variety of learner-centred activities to engage your teams
- Modern technology tools facilitate discussion and collaboration through breakout rooms, whiteboards, polls and more
- High levels of trainer feedback on competency levels and advice on how to improve these
- Small class sizes allow for maximum participation

Outcome-based, targeted solutions

- Programmes developed by our specialists to match your participants' contexts and specific performance gaps
- Modular programmes offer a clear learning pathway
- Group and one-to-one sessions
- Flexible programme length to ensure your learning needs are met

Robust, quality programmes

- Specialised content developed by the British Council
- user-friendly participant toolkits provides a handy reference guide to dip into back in the workplace
- Post-programme support reinforces learning, encourages continued development and ensures accountability, positively impacting individuals, teams and organisations.

Relevant, useful content

- Communication skills programmes for individual contributors and managers
- Written communication, including: emails, reports, minutes, proposals, SOPs
- Spoken and interpersonal communication, including: presentations, virtual communication, negotiation, assertiveness, meetings
- Communication skills for managers, including: executive presence, stakeholder engagement, coaching and mentoring

Practical results

- Improve workplace capabilities, productivity and relationships
- Blended evaluation methods to ensure participants develop core competencies
- Reporting to provide evidence of skills development

Accelerated implementation

Allow us to handle the programme design, setup and delivery hosted using licenced software, or arrange to have our trainers deliver using your internal platforms.

To find out more and arrange for a consultation with one of our experts contact us at:

 Please contact
 renee.selikowitz@britishcouncil.cz